Larry Sprott, 16, is Killed in Auto Crash

Christopher Woman Also Fatally Hurt

James McKee, Robert Jones, Harold Guard Receive Injuries

Larry Sprott, 16-year-old Harrisburg Township high school junior, and a woman from Christopher were fatally injured early Saturday evening in a two-car crash between Christopher and Sesser in which four others were injured.

Sprott, son of Mrs. Serial Thompson, was in a car driven by James McKee, HTHS faculty member. McKee, Sprott, Robert Jones and Harold Guard were returning from St. Louis, where the group had attended an engineering open house held by Washington university.

McKee was seriously but not critically injured. He is in the Lightner hospital suffering a neck injury, a fractured cervical, fractured knee and fractured finger. He also has a laceration on the head.

Jones, a high school sophomore, is the son of State Senator Glen O. Jones and Mrs. Jones of Raleigh. He suffered a fractured knee and is confined to the Harrisburg hospital.

Identify Dead Woman
Guard, an HTHS junior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Guard. He sustained cuts on the chin and lip and was released after treatment at Miner's hospital in Christopher.

State Police headquarters at Du Quoin identified the dead woman as Charabelle Marcus, 17, of Christopher, a passenger in the auto driven by her mother-in-law, Gertrude Marcus, 43, also of Christopher. The driver was seriously injured and was taken to Miner's hospital.

State police said the crash occurred at 6 p. m. Saturday on Route 148 at the Vesper intersection between Christopher and Sesser. McKee was driving southward and Mrs. Marcus was going northward and it was reported that Mrs. Marcus started a left turn off the highway into the path of McKee's car.

The right front sides of both automobiles bore the brunt of the impact and McKee's auto caught fire and burned up. None of the four in the car was burned, however.

All six were rushed to Miner's hospital where young Sprott and the younger Mrs. Marcus died in a short time. The Gaskins funeral home returned the Sprott body to Harrisburg.

Saturday night young Jones was brought to the Harrisburg hospital and yesterday morning McKee was brought to Lightner.

Young Sprott, who entered high school here last October, apparently died of a fractured skull. The physician who treated him at Christopher told the Franklin county coroner.

McKee, who is mathematics instructor at HTHS, also is the Bull Pups football coach and coach of the freshman basketball team.

Young Sprott was the Master Councillor of DeMolay, an Eagle Scout and assistant youth scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 23.

He is survived by his stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Serial Thompson, and a brother, Richard Sprott.

Funeral services were held today at 2 p. m. in the Gaskins chapel. Rev. J. P. Emig officiated, and burial was in Sunset Lawn cemetery.

Evan Dale Pleads Innocent to Evading Taxes

SPRINGFIELD.—Evan R. Dale, former laborers union official in southern Illinois, pleaded innocent today to charges he evaded $104,656 in federal income taxes.

The Carbondale man was brought here to enter a plea on the tax charge from a jail cell at St. Louis, where he is awaiting the outcome of his appeal from his conviction on charges of labor racketeering.

The six-count tax indictment charges Dale reported a total income of $29,954 for the six years starting in 1948, when he actually made $238,570.

A grand jury returned the indictment here last Dec. 10, only three days after Dale was convicted at East St. Louis on charges he tried to extort $1,030,000 from builders of a $160,000,000 plant at Joppla to supply power to the Paducah, Ky., atomic energy installation.

Dale formerly was president of the Southern Illinois District Council of the AFL Common Laborers Union. He was described at his trial as boss of 38,000 union members.

Trial on the tax evasion charges was set for May 16. Dale was returned to St. Louis in custody of a U. S. Marshal.

Federal Judge Charles G. Briggie also held hearings on the cases of Edward J. Pavlat, Watauga, and Guy T. Long, Springfield, who are charged with labor racketeering.

Polio Vaccine May Be Administered To 1121 School Children in County

Detailed plans now are being worked out for the possible administration of polio vaccine to 1121 Saline county children who will be eligible to receive it if it is licensed, Dr. James H. Wells, Egyptian Health Dept. health officer, declared today.

As was announced previously by state health officials, all first and second grade pupils in public, private and parochial schools in the county are included. It also will be available to others through physicians at the same time.

But parents were warned by Dr. Wells not to jump to the conclusion that the current planning indicated the vaccine already had been proved effective.

Want to Give Vaccine Early
"The vaccine which will be furnished by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is the same vaccine that was given to 440,000 children last spring," he said. "We do not know yet whether it really prevents paralytic polio. Until April, when we will learn the results of the evaluation study now being conducted at the University of Michigan, we cannot know if the vaccine is effective. But we cannot wait until then for planning for the protection of as many of our children as possible. Vaccinating large numbers of children is a big and important job, entailing many procedural tasks that can't be performed over night."

"If the license is granted in April, we must be ready to start vaccinating at once, so that, if possible, we can finish before our schools close and the polio season starts. We want to give the vaccine early so that many children can be protected before polio appears in their communities."

"This program would not be another test but the first use of a newly established preventative measure."

Under the direction of the State Health Department, Dr. Wells has been conferring with school authorities and physicians who have pledged their full cooperation.

Parents Must Request Vaccine
The polio vaccine will be furnished from a supply being purchased by the National Foundation with March of Dimes funds. It will be made available by the National Foundation without charge for the product to State health officers for use in the above groups, if licensed by the Federal government. Supplies also will be distributed through usual channels at the same time.

The National Foundation has financed the development and production of the Salk vaccine. Contracts were made with manufacturers for a supply of vaccine costing $9,000,000 in March of Dimes funds. This enabled manufacturers to keep their production facilities in operation during the waiting period and be ready to go into full production as soon as the vaccine is licensed.

Vaccine would be given by the health department this spring only to those eligible children whose parents sign forms requesting it. It is a completely voluntary program. The forms will be distributed through the schools beginning

Spring Arrives As Bad Weather Batters Nation

The first day of spring today found the nation battered by tornadoes, blizzards, and a fast-moving cold wave.

Heavy snows in the Midwest contributed to at least four deaths and at least 13 persons were killed when an American Airlines plane, flying through a heavy mist, crashed at Springfield, Mo.

Tornadoes whipped parts of Missouri and Arkansas late Sunday and blizzard conditions were reported in Iowa and Colorado. Heavy, wind-driven snows also whipped Nebraska, South Dakota, Wyoming and New Mexico.

Temperatures nose-dived to 11 below zero at Rawlins, Wyo., and a sub-freezing 27 above was predicted for California's citrus belt.

Calendar Says Spring
Despite the wintry storm, the calendar said it was spring.

The weather bureau insisted that spring arrived at 4:36 a. m. EST, the moment of the vernal equinox when the center of the sun is directly over the equator.

Today was also theoretically a time of equal day and equal night—12 hours of each. But the bending of light rays and modern methods of measuring sunrise and sunset combined to produce 12 hours and 11 minutes of daytime and 11 hours and 49 minutes of night.

Whatever the experts said, it was far from springlike today as the weather dished up a giant layer cake of cold, rain, and snow.

The top layer spread snow from the southwest Great Plains into the upper Mississippi Valley. The second brought light rain or drizzle from central Oklahoma to the southern Great Lakes. Finally, a 128-mile band of showers and thunderstorms hit from northern Louisiana to central Kentucky.

At Uvalde, Tex., a wild windstorm collapsed a circus tent over 400 persons just five minutes after the Hagen Bros. Circus performance had begun.

The panic-stricken onlookers, many of them children, rushed out into a blinding rain-hail storm and winds so intense they stopped people dead in their tracks. Circus attendants rounded up two elephants who were in the ring when the big top came down.

City's Water Supply Termed Best in History

Predict River Will Go Higher At Shawneetown

BULLETIN

R. R. Brown, engineer, today estimated that a yesterday's rainfall put an additional 300 million gallons of water in Lake Harrisburg, bringing the total gallonage up to approximately 600 million gallons. Brown made his estimate after visiting the lake this morning. He said the lake rose four feet as a result of yesterday's rain.

Amos Doom, water and sewer department superintendent, said at noon that the flood gates at the two pumping stations were to be closed early this afternoon and that water would be pumped out of the West Harrisburg and Pankey Branch drainage ditches. This is necessary because of a rising Middle Fork creek. These are NOT the gates at the highway openings.

The Harrisburg city water supply today was termed the biggest in the history of the town after nearly three inches of rain fell in the area yesterday, sending creeks out of their banks, flooding fields, and stopping traffic on some roads.

In town, too, the effects of the rainfall were felt. Between 6 and 7 p. m., following a cloudburst, streets were filled with water and many basements were flooded. Total rainfall yesterday was 2.88 inches.

At Shawneetown, it was predicted the river would go higher than its present 46-foot stage. The river has been on a stand at about 46 feet. Gallatin County Sheriff Millard Holloway declared, but added he had received reports that rainfall was general over the river to Cincinnati and that a higher stage was in prospect.

Lowlands Flooded
At 48 feet the water floods over Route 13 near Junction, he explained, although traffic can still move over the pavement at that stage.

But around Harrisburg, many fields today looked like lakes and lowlands around Middle Fork, Bankston and other creeks were flooded. The city water situation was at its best as the area got its most water since 1950, when the flood gates were closed as water crossed Route 45 northeast and Route 13 east of the city. All restrictions on usage were off, naturally.

"Our water supply is the best in the history of Harrisburg," said Mayor Ralph Horning Jr. He explained that the north reservoir was full, the south reservoir was two-thirds full and that there are a few hundred million gallons of water in Lake Harrisburg.

In addition, there are around 80,000,000 gallons in the flooded borrow pits alongside the reservoirs and the pumps were going full blast, sending more water into the reservoirs.

Creeks Still Rising
In fact, the borrow pits were more than full as water rushed in

OUT OUR WAY

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: State Department Functionary Purposely Leaked Yalta Papers; Full Text Embarrasses Churchill; Churchill Took Much Credit That Belonged To Eden.

WASHINGTON. — The full backstage story of how and why the State Department slapped the grand old man of England in the face by publishing the Yalta Conference papers can now be told. Friends of Churchill say it almost broke his heart.

The State Department, as noted in this column on Sept. 25, 1954, had been working on the Yalta papers for some time, thanks to a special $12,000 appropriation passed at the behest of Republican leaders Knowland of California and Bridges of New Hampshire who wanted them made public before the November election. When the documents were sent to London for Churchill's approval, however, Foreign Minister Anthony Eden cabled John Foster Dulles shortly before the Bangkok conference that "on Mr. Churchill's suggestion" that the Yalta records not be published.

Then Eden added this postscript: "I would like to confer with you personally on this when I see you in Bangkok."

At Bangkok, Eden explained that Churchill, now in the twilight of his 80 years, looked back at World War II as the crowning achievement of his long and illustrious career. And the records of Yalta, Eden explained, showed some of Churchill's errors, also showed that Eden had tried to rectify these errors.

Furthermore, the Yalta papers contradicted some of the historic contradictions for which Churchill took credit in his memoirs.

Why, therefore, break an old man's heart, Eden told the secretary of state.

DULLES AGREES

Dulles agreed. He remarked to State Department colleagues later that Eden had been so cooperative in risking his political neck by supporting the U. S. A. re Formosa that he couldn't deny this favor.

When Dulles returned to Washington he conveyed this general idea to Republican senators and, though they still maintained the documents should be released, they prepared privately to accept the decision.

It was at this point that Carl McCordle, assistant secretary of state for the press, and Dulles' personal public relations man, planted a copy of the Yalta documents with the New York Times. The excuse now given in the State Department is that the documents were bound to leak to right-wing senators, perhaps to McCarthy.

An hour after the New York Times plant became known, Senators Bridges and Knowland lunched with Dulles, told him of the plant. He replied that he was "aghast."

OIL REPORT:

Eight Oil, One Gas Well Completed In Eldorado Field; Two Dry Holes

From Jerry Robertson's Tri-State Oil Report

There were 12 completions in the Eldorado oil field for the period ending March 12 and of this total there were eight oil wells, one gas well, one test temporarily abandoned and two dry and abandoned.

The oil wells:

1. John Stelle Associates' Blankenship et al Community Unit 1, NW 1/4 Sec. 15-8s-7e, an oil well in the Waltersburg, initial production 1269 barrels per day after fracture.

2. J. D. Turner's Guy Westbrook Community Unit 1, 330 feet north and 260 feet east of SW 1/4 Sec. 15-8s-7e, initial production 832 barrels of oil and 24 water per day on flow from Waltersburg.

3. Duncan and Turner's Cook-Speer 3, 500 feet north and 320 feet west of SEC NE 3W, 15-8s-7e, initial production 210 barrels oil and 24 water per day on flow from Waltersburg.

4. Miller's Smith-Downey Community Unit 1, NE 1/4 Sec. 15-8s-7e, initial production 550 barrels per day on flow from Waltersburg after fracture.

5. Humphrey-Tremont's Beulah says, however, that he knew of McCordle's action and that McCordle never does anything without the knowledge of the secretary of state.

At any rate, here is what the Yalta record did to the prime minister of England.

CHURCHILL GETS SLAPPED

In his memoirs, Churchill claimed he had nothing to do with the concessions given Stalin to get Russia into the war against Japan. This, he said, was an American decision.

The Yalta record shows, however, that it was Eden who vigorously opposed concessions to Yalta. A summary of the British-American conference at Yalta, just before the Yalta parley, has this to say about Eden and Russian concessions:

"In his (Eden's) view, if the Russians decided to enter the war against Japan they would take the decision because they considered it in their interests that the Japanese war should not be successfully finished by the U. S. and Great Britain alone. There was therefore no need for us to offer a high price for their participation, and if we were prepared to agree to their territorial demands in the Far East we should see to it that we obtained a good return in respect of the points on which we required concessions from them."

DISMEMBERING GERMANY

On two other vitally important points, the British prime minister is shown up in a bad light: The Dismemberment of Germany and the organization of the United Nations.

In his memoirs, Churchill has always taken credit for killing the dismemberment of Germany. However, the Yalta records show it was Anthony Eden. What Eden did was to shut the question of dismembering Germany to a council of foreign ministers to be held after the Yalta conference, thereby giving time for tempers to cool.

Churchill also threw his weight in favor of the big powers and against the little nations in setting up the framework of the United Nations. Today, of course, the smaller nations have been the great bulwark of peace while the Russian veto has almost stymied the United Nations.

And when it came to discussing a UN trusteeship over the Japanese islands and other enemy territory, the Yalta papers show that the prime minister either didn't understand what was going on, or was too deaf to hear, or had taken too much of his favorite brandy.

Page 729 of the Yalta papers shows how, when Ed Stettinius, then secretary of state, read his report on setting up trusteeships for enemy territory, the confused Churchill almost blew his top. Here are the abbreviated notes of what happened:

"I will not consent to a representation of Brit. Em. going to any conference where he will be placed in the dock and asked to defend our-

Red China Refuses To Send Tanker After Jet Fuel Cargo

HELSINKI, Finland (U)—Red China has refused to send another tanker to pick up the Finnish vessel Aruba's disrupted jet fuel cargo, informed shipping sources said today.

Peiping reacted "very negatively" to the proposal for fear that Chinese Nationalist warships already lying in wait for the Aruba would capture the relief vessel, these sources said.

With the crew standing pat and the Communists refusing to come after the fuel, shipping sources said the Aruba probably would have to return to Red Rumania and hand back its cargo.

30 Re-Location Centers for Gov't in A-War

WASHINGTON (U.P.)—The federal government will be run from about 30 scattered centers if nuclear warfare threatens or hits the capital.

Defense experts have selected locations over a wide area — north to Pennsylvania, west to Ohio and south to North Carolina.

Nearly 30 executive agencies which would have essential wartime functions have been assigned these "emergency relocation sectors" in which they would continue to operate. They range from 80 miles north and west of Washington to 200 miles south.

No Congressional "hideout"

Congressional leaders have not yet accepted an invitation from the Office of Defense Mobilization to assign a hideout where the lawmakers would meet in emergency session.

A small scale test of the outlying posts is scheduled this spring.

Centers Are Secret

Most of the "relocation" centers are secret so far. An exception is the huge underground "Pentagon" in the mountains on the Maryland-Pennsylvania border which could accommodate the President and top military command.

Others are in outlying government installations and in colleges and universities. Defense planners consider colleges and universities particularly good sites because of their dormitories and dining facilities.

About six persons from each agency will be dispatched to their emergency posts May 1 for a two-week tour of duty. Another "dry run" is scheduled June 15-16-17 in connection with a nationwide Civil Defense exercise.

The ultimate goal of the defense planners is to have specially-trained staffs, which could take over in an emergency, permanently stationed at the outlying posts.

If there were advance warning of an attack, top officials and regular Washington employees would start at once for the emergency locations. If the attack came before Washington could be evacuated, survivors would re-assemble in those locations as rapidly as they could.

J. Wayne Green, eminent Trichologist, demonstrates causes of baldness and how it can be prevented.

How to Have Hair For a Lifetime To Be Demonstrated Here By Famous Trichologist

Offers Written Guarantee
An exclusive interview by Steven Bright

WICHITA (Special) — J. Wayne Green, Director of Rogers, Inc., Hair and Scalp Specialists, exploded the "myth of baldness" today in an exclusive interview.

"Baldness is unnecessary, costly, and a plague to mankind," says Green. "No man need be bald. No man need suffer the stigma of premature old age that is forced upon him because he is losing his hair. The Rogers method of hair and scalp treatment can prevent baldness—can turn colorless fuzz into healthy, growing hair—can make you look youthful again."

Demonstration To Be Held In Harrisburg, Ill.

This revolutionary method of home treatment for the hair and scalp will be demonstrated in Harrisburg, Ill., Tuesday ONLY, March 22, at the Horning Hotel. Trichologist L. R. Martin will conduct the private, individual interviews from 12 noon until 9 p. m. on Tuesday ONLY. There is no cost or obligation, and you need no appointment.

Reason for Baldness

"There is always a reason for baldness," continued this nationally known authority. "Hair cannot grow through a scalp that is infected with dandruff, excessive oiliness, or extreme dryness. A scalp that has never been exercised cannot be expected to produce healthy hair." Men, and yes, women, too, walk the streets today, completely devoid of nature's greatest ornament—hair. Simply because they were not taught the basic rules of hair and scalp hygiene while they were growing up. "The simple answer," emphasized this expert, "is that children should be taught the same simple basic rules of hair and scalp hygiene that they are taught for the proper care of their teeth. If this were the case, baldness would be a rarity today!"

Heredity Not Involved

Trichologist Green dodged no issues. He quickly took up the most widely spread theory of baldness—heredity. "Mankind's unrealistic belief that baldness is hereditary stems from a misinterpretation of the theory of genetics. Theory does not state that any person must be bald because baldness exists in the family. What it does say, is that in some families, a tendency exists towards an undernourished scalp." The purpose of the Rogers Hair and Scalp Clinic is to teach the methods of strengthening the weak scalp and nourishing it to a healthy, vigorous condition. "A healthy scalp will grow hair if it is not already completely bald," assures Green.

Is There Hope For the Completely Bald?

In his travels throughout the United States and Canada, Green has collected hundreds of testimonials of his ability to develop weak, fuzzy into healthy, mature hair. All of his clients have started with private examination, hair and scalp analysis, and a diagnosis of the disorder. Green is quick, however, to tell a hopeless case that he cannot be helped. "We strongly advise," says Green, "that no person who is completely bald hold any hope whatsoever of regrowing hair. If there is any fuzz at all, we can restore a healthy scalp condition and the hair will grow normally again as nature intended."

Offers A Guarantee

"Rogers, Inc., America's Foremost Hair and Scalp Specialists, offer a guarantee to any client who enrolls for treatment. If he or she is not completely delighted with the results at the end of 30 days, the money invested will be graciously refunded," says Green. We must have satisfied clients. We must grow hair. After all, it is our best advertisement."

Is Your Hair Healthy?

If you have a scalp disorder, or if you are worried about your hair, call Trichologist L. R. Martin at the Horning Hotel in Harrisburg, Ill., Tuesday ONLY from 12 noon to 9 p. m. The public is invited. The examinations are private and open to men and women. You do not need an appointment, and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.

Passengers Praise Pilot for Landing Crippled Airliner

CHICAGO —(AP)—Singer Connie Boswell led 59 other passengers in a round of applause for the pilot who brought down a crippled American Airlines DC7 in a non-scheduled, nosed-over landing Sunday night.

Miss Boswell and her husband-manager, Harry Leeder, were among the persons aboard the non-stop Los Angeles to New York flight when an engine went dead just west of Chicago.

The plane captain, R. A. Patterson of Los Angeles, turned back over Gary, Ind., and brought the four-engine plane to a skidding stop in the rain at Chicago's Midway Airport.

The nose wheel collapsed and the plane nosed-over at the end of the landing, but no one was hurt.

Two quarts of liquid should be drunk daily by an adult.

Demos Delay Showdown on Price Supports

By United Press
House Democrats today put off until mid-April a showdown on a proposal to restore high price supports for major farm crops. Some Republicans charged that the Democrats were "fearful of the outcome." The Democrats answered that a sudden legislative log-jam necessitated the delay. The measure originally was scheduled for debate Tuesday and Wednesday.

House Democratic Whip Carl Albert (Okla.) said the high support program could be passed "as easily now as later."

Chairman Harold D. Cooley (D-N.C.) said the delay will give Democrats time to line up a "bigger majority" in their desire to junk the Eisenhower administration's flexible price support program. He revealed that he and other Democratic farm leaders have begun a grass roots drive for support of the bill to be kicked off with the mailing of some 30,000 copies of a 10-page pamphlet favoring high supports.

Other developments: Reserves: Asst. Defense Secretary Carter L. Burgess urged a House Armed Services subcommittee to approve the administration's request for power to draft youths for six months training followed by reserve duty. The subcommittee tentatively voted against the plan last week, and members told Burgess today that it smacked too much of universal military training. They said the proposed reserve training program would be limited to volunteers.

Market: Benjamin F. Fairless, board chairman of U. S. Steel Corp. told the Senate Banking Committee investigating the stock market that his industry has found it difficult to raise money by marketing common stock because he said "public confidence in steel issues has not always been high." He said the steel industry has always been sensitive to the "ups and downs" of the economy.

Big Four talks: Chairman Walter F. George (D-Ga.) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee urged President Eisenhower to take the initiative in calling a top-level peace conference with Russian, British and French leaders. Following up a suggestion he made on a television broadcast, the senator told reporters the talks are urgently needed and should not wait—as the administration has argued in the past—until Russia demonstrates its will for peace through concrete deeds.

over the levee from flooded fields and was going over the spillway and dam into Middle Fork creek. The lane alongside the borrow pits was flooded, also.

Amos Doom, water and sewer department superintendent, said that the creeks were still rising this morning. The gauge on Middle Fork showed 17.90 at midnight and 19.90 at 7 a. m., a rise of two feet in seven hours. It had risen a few more inches at 9 a. m.

The 3,000 and the 750 gallons per minute pumps were started at 4:30 p. m. yesterday and the 14,500 gallon pump at 8 a. m. today. J. O. Vanbiber, on duty at the pumps, said the water was testing about as near perfect as possible.

Doom said that last night the water and sewer department received numerous calls from persons who stated that their basements had flooded.

Nurse is Held For Kidnaping Infant Girl

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—A practical nurse and mother of three boys who abducted a baby girl from her hospital crib minutes after her birth was to be charged with kidnaping today if her hysteria subsided.

The baby, Carolyn Sue Wharton, was found well and unharmed Sunday by police who cautiously traced the kidnapper, Mrs. Pauline Marie Schulze, 29, to Houston, Tex.

The accused woman has insisted wildly since she was found with the infant early Sunday at Houston that she gave birth to the baby, even though a doctor who examined her said that wasn't possible. Carolyn Sue, a healthy, blue-eyed little girl, was placed Sunday in the arms of her pretty, 28-year-old mother, Mrs. Mary Helen Wharton, for the first time.

Mrs. Schulze was brought to Beaumont by ambulance. She was carried into the hospital, where she once had been employed, and was identified by Mrs. Helen Mays, a nurse, as the woman who kidnaped the Wharton infant.

Mrs. Mays was on duty in the nursery Saturday, 30 minutes after Carolyn Sue was born, when a woman wearing a nurse's uniform and carrying a surgical mask approached and said she would relieve her for a few minutes because Mrs. Mays was wanted in the hospital office.

Mrs. Mays, when she realized she had been tricked, rushed back to the nursery. The kidnapper, apparently snatching the first baby she saw, had grabbed the Wharton infant from the crib nearest the door and fled.

12 Killed, 23 Injured in Airliner Crash

Plows Into Muddy Field Near Airport At Springfield, Mo.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. —(AP)—An American Airlines plane with 35 persons aboard crashed in a muddy field while approaching Municipal Airport here Sunday night, killing 12 persons and injuring 23.

Two of the dead were crew members Co-Pilot J. E. Walker and Stewardess Rita Madaj, both of Chicago.

The airline, after a night-long check of hospital and funeral homes, issued a corrected list of dead and injured at dawn, some seven hours after the crash.

The plane, flight 711 out of Newark, N. J., bound for Tulsa, Okla., crashed as it was coming in for a landing at Springfield.

One of the survivors, B. H. Mayes of Cushing, Okla., said there was no warning whatsoever of an impending crash.

The plane plowed into a muddy, open field about a mile north of the airport. One witness reported a flash of light at the time of the crash, but the wreckage did not burn.

Screams From Injured
Mrs. Lloyd Blankenship, who lives nearby, said she and her husband "heard screams for help and my husband ran to the scene."

Persons living in the area notified police the Convair had crashed. Ambulances were rushed to the scene, but bogged down in the mud. Some of the injured had to be carried a half-mile through ankle-deep mud to be loaded on the ambulances and taken to hospitals.

Bob Tubert, newsman for a Springfield radio station, said he saw 12 bodies near the wreckage.

"I carried two of the injured about a half-mile to ambulances, one of them a two-year-old boy," Tubert said. "He appeared to be badly hurt."

The pilot, Capt. Jack Parish of Chicago, was pulled from the wreckage "in critical condition," Tubert said.

The pilot and co-pilot, the newsman said, were wedged into the cockpit after the crash and had to be pried free. The stewardess' body was found behind a partition at the rear of the plane.

The main body of the plane didn't break up, Tubert said. But the engines were torn loose and the wings sheared off.

There was wreckage and bodies scattered over about 400 yards," he said.

Concert by Angellaire Closes Current Season by Harrisburg Association

By John Schork
H. T. H. S. Music Supervisor
The Harrisburg Community Concert association closed its current season Friday evening with a unique attraction. The Angellaire, an ensemble of five harpists, presented an interestingly varied program to a large and enthusiastic audience in the First Baptist church.

Large Crowd Attends Annual HTHS Music Revue

A large crowd attended the annual music revue held Saturday evening in the Bonnell gymnasium at the Harrisburg Township high school. This year's performance entitled "High School Hi-Lites of 1955" was presented by the HTHS band under the direction of Marshall M. Cothran.

The scenery consisted of black silhouettes of musicians on a background of pink and before the dance band, which was on the stage at all times, "Record Shop Dance Band" was printed on a make-believe film strip.

Diane Mathis was pianist for the band with Bill Brantley on the drums. Trumpet players were Bill Bottomley and Dick Fritts; trombones, Tom Davis; Charles Dabney; saxophones, Herbie Parks; Jerry Bramlet and Oren Brown; flutes, Barbara Dunn, Norma McDonald and Treva Kay Humphrey. Allen Burbank played the clarinet.

The dancing chorus, dancing to "Chattanooga Shoe Shine Boy," "When My Sugar Walks Down the Street," "Sweet Georgia Brown," and "Sunny Side of the Street," consisted of Jean Abney, Nigel Jenkins, Judy Belt, Pat Hodson, Collette Wavering, Sandy Lasseter, Joy Taylor, Elaine Whiteside, Janice Stiff, Norma Simpson, Jane Capel and Barbara Upchurch.

Vocal soloists were Carroll Clark, Carroll Lightfoot, Nancy Fulkerson and Dorothy Hanning. Marimba solos were played by Diane Mathis and Paula Reynolds, who also played an accordion solo. Other vocalists were the Hi-Lites and the Dude Ranch Cow Pokes.

Pantomimes were given by Chuck Ford and Tom Pfister and by Karen Skaggs.

Other acts were "Mr. Strong Man," by Robert Moore and Roger Wiley, "Cowboy Joe" with Lou Ray Williams, Pat Hodson, Joy Taylor and Sandra Lasseter, and "The Bachelor Takes a Wife."

The show closed with the complete cast on stage singing, "No Business Like Show Business" and with the theme "Moonlight Serenade."

Why Scrap Free Competition

In the production of Natural Gas or any other product?

Natural gas comes to most consumers through interstate pipelines and local utility systems. They have franchises from state or local bodies, and have long been regulated. The producers who find the gas have not been regulated because more than 5,000 of them compete vigorously—and free competition is the best of all price controls.

Yet these producers have recently been singled out for Federal controls and price-fixing.

This is a step without peacetime precedent—to price-fix a consumer product at its source. It is a step that deeply disturbs many Americans, including the undersigned committee.

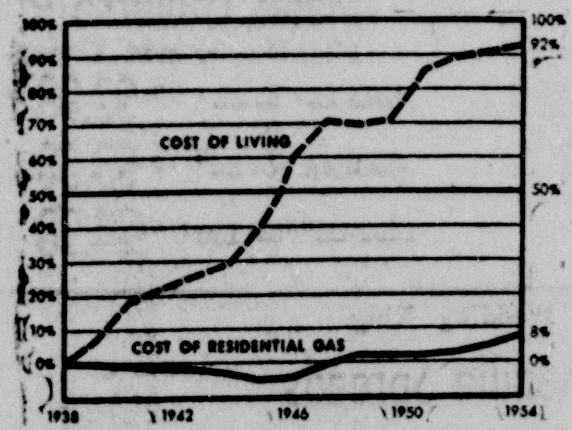

They believe the proposed controls are against the public interest and can benefit no one. They believe the issue goes far beyond gas. It goes to the roots of America's greatness. They believe the controls plan is unwise for many reasons.

It is Unnecessary because gas supplies have tripled in sixteen years. And costs to consumers have risen a nation-wide average of only one-eleventh as much as the cost of living.

It is Dangerous because it could easily be the first step toward Federal controls on coal or oil—or lumber or grain or your business.

It is Unfair because it singles out one competitive industry for such controls.

It is Shortsighted because it stifles the bold and risky exploring that's needed to assure adequate supplies.

As shown by the chart above, based on figures of the Bureau of Labor Statistics for a national average, the cost of natural gas to the residential consumer has gone up only one-eleventh as much as the cost of living in sixteen years.

Forwards are Nolden Gentry, 6-6, Rockford West, and Dave Cadwallader, 6-4, Lincoln. Joe Ruklick, 6-8, Princeton, is center. At the guards are 6-0 Jim Lazenby, Pinckneyville, and 5-10 Garrison Newsom, Shawneetown.

Ruklick and Gentry both were unanimous first string choices.

On the second team were Whitey Verstraete, Moline, and Arlen Hill, Pinckneyville, forwards; Tom Alley, Elgin, center; and Gary Smith, Elgin, and Lester Kewney, Quincy, guards.

Others who got votes were Seymour Bryson and Bill Rineberg, Quincy; John Wessels, Fred Boshela and Rod Coffman, Rockford West; Bill Graning, Gene Youngquist and Mike Owens, Galesburg; Arthur Day, Chicago Marshall; Jim Lee and Carroll Larry, Decatur; Gary Siegmeyer, Elgin; Tom Velloff, Alton; Bobby Spotsville and Alfred Gunzel, Shawneetown; Don Margenthaler, Pinckneyville; Gary Mulully and Lewis Flinn, Princeton; Roger Taylor, Rich Township; Joe McCord, Paris; John Frasco, Peoria Spalding, and Billy Morris, Georgetown.

BIG LEAGUE ROOKIES ... No. 5

Victory Rally and Parade Held in Rockford for West's Champion Warriors

CHAMPAIGN (U.P.)—Coach Alex Saudargas gave thanks to the "highest scoring one second in basketball history" for making his Rockford West Warriors 61-59 state champions over Elgin.

The gallant band of Warriors left Sunday to return to a tumultuous victory rally and parade in Rockford. Saudargas, deliriously happy, said his team made "the greatest comeback of the year" in its Saturday night "Sweet Sixteen" championship victory. Rockford's victory gave northern Illinois the state game crown for the fourth time in five years. Only Mount Vernon last year broke the north's dominance. Freeport, Hebron and La Grange won previously.

If ever a team had a right to cry because it lost the big one, it was Elgin — and the Maroons did just that.

Tough One to Lose
Elgin players walked the streets and sat silently in the lobby of their hotel early Sunday, wondering at the breaks that cost them an upset victory that seemed to be in their grasp.

Saudargas' "highest scoring one second" was the biggest in a series of twists that pulled the Warriors from the brink of defeat. "It was the turning point," Saudargas said. "We were six points down with about two minutes left and I didn't think we could make it."

Here was this once-in-a-lifetime play: With 2 minutes and 19 seconds showing on the clock, and Elgin leading 57-51, Warrior forward Nolden Gentry went into the air on a 17-foot jump shot. It was good and Gentry was fouled after he got rid of the ball. He made the free throw and the bonus toss, with the clock stopped.

Now leading 57-55, Elgin threw the ball in. The Maroons' Gary Siegmeyer caught the pass but came down on Warrior Rex Parker. Parker sank two free throws and the score was tied. The clock only had time to tick off one second, and read 2:18.

Lamm Misses Vital Toss
The teams battled to 59-59 with 40 seconds left to play when Elgin sub Earl Lamp was fouled. Amid moans from Elgin fans, Lamp missed the free throw that might have assured a Maroon victory.

Rockford brought the ball down court, and two passes carried it to John Wessels. Wessels let go with an 18-foot push shot, which hit the rim. It was rolling out when Gentry leaped and tipped it back in as the clock ticked off to only 11 seconds left.

Elgin brought the ball down and Gary Smith dribbled into the right corner and out again, with Warriors harrying him closely. He could have shot in any of the last five seconds, and Maroon Co-Capt. Paul Hudgens was screaming for Smith to shoot when the gun went off.

Smith's face broke with grief as the gun went off and he threw, far too late, for the basket.

Time Run Out
"The boy thought there were 30 seconds after Gentry's score," Elgin Coach Bill Chesbrough said later. "He just thought he had more time to set up a shot."

Elgin just about ran the Warriors off the floor in the first quarter, stifling the Rockford offense with a man-to-man defense, setting up Hudgens and Smith for outside push shots and shaking 6-4 Tom Alley loose in the free-throw lane. Elgin led 24-10 at the quarter and 40-27 at halftime. Then came Rockford's second half rally, topped by the "highest scoring one second."

Elgin downed Princeton 71-66 in the first afternoon semifinal, despite 37 points by 6-8 Princeton center Joe Ruklick, one point shy of the tourney record.

Pinckneyville easily defeated the tired Princeton Tigers for third place 58-53, grabbing a 14-point halftime lead. Most noteworthy part of the game was a two-man defense — Arlen Hill and Alex Singer — which held Ruklick to 19 points, two in the first half.

Shawneetown Pays Tribute to Cage Indians
Despite a downpour of rain, Shawneetown residents turned out en masse yesterday afternoon to pay tribute to their basketball team which participated in "Sweet Sixteen" play last week.

A caravan of nearly 200 cars, each jammed with backers of the team, met the homeward bound Indians at Norris City at 1:30 p. m. and followed them to Shawneetown.

MAYS, RHODES HOMER FOR GIANTS

PHOENIX, Ariz. (U.P.)—The New York Giants were gloating over the home run hitting of Willie Mays and Dusty Rhodes today as they brought their traveling road show with the Cleveland Indians back to Arizona's cactus country.

A pinch-hit homer by Rhodes enabled the Giants to whip the Indians, 7-3, Sunday for a sweep of their weekend series at Los Angeles. Mays' three homers had propelled the Giants to a 4-2 victory over their World Series rivals on Saturday.

Sunday's game was witnessed by 24,434.

CHURCH HURLS PERFECT FIVE INNINGS

MESA, Ariz. (U.P.)—Emory (Bubby) Church is going all out in his bid to return to the majors with the Chicago Cubs.

The chunky right-hander faced only 15 batters during a perfect five-inning stint Sunday in helping to pitch the Cubs to a 7-0 victory over their Los Angeles farm hands.

YANKEES, DODGERS SPLIT TWO GAMES

VERO BEACH, Fla. (U.P.)—The New York Yankees and the Brooklyn Dodgers renewed their spring series on the Dodgers' training grounds today after splitting two weekend games at Miami.

A 10th inning single by Sandy Amoros presented the Dodgers with a 9-8 victory Sunday before 12,244 fans. Their Saturday night clash also went into extra innings before rookie Elston Howard won it for the Yankees with a 12th-inning homer.

ROOKIES CHEER KANSAS CITY A'S

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (U.P.)—The Kansas City Athletics today were cheered by the play of their rookie keystone combination of shortstop Jack Littrell and second baseman Hector Lopez.

Both youngsters had a big hand in the Athletics' 3-2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles Sunday, with Littrell singling home Lopez in the seventh inning with the winning run.

REDS RALLY IN NINTH TO BEAT WHITE SOX

CINCINNATI, Ohio (U.P.)—The Cincinnati Reds formally dedicated Al Lopez field Sunday, then went out and beat the Chicago White Sox with a four-run rally in the ninth inning. It was the first victory in five games for the Reds, who meet the Pittsburgh Pirates here today.

BRAVES' HOMERS BEAT CARDINALS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (U.P.)—Manager Eddie Stanky of the St. Louis Cardinals today warned his pitchers against throwing too many home run balls as his team took on the Chicago White Sox.

Home runs ruined the Cardinals in a game Sunday against the Milwaukee Braves. Hank Aaron unloaded a two-run blast off Stu Miller in the third inning and Joe Adcock reached George Schults for an eighth-inning homer that gave the Braves a 5-4 victory.

GROAT STARS AS PIRATES BEAT SENATORS

ORLANDO, Fla. (U.P.)—A two-year hitch in the Army apparently never hurt Dick Groat, who is back hunting his old shortstop berth with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The ex-Duke university basketball star was the whole show Sunday as the Pirates turned back the Washington Senators, 4-2, in 13 innings. He singled home the tying run in the eighth inning and then scored the winning run in the 13th.

Dukes Beat Dayton, 70-58, To Win the NIT

NEW YORK (U.P.)—Take two brilliant All-Americans, add three more "completely unselfish players," and you've got Duquesne's unbeatable formula for winning a National Invitation Basketball tournament.

At least, that was the system used by the dashing Dukes in whipping Dayton, 70-58, in Saturday's spine-tingling finale to this year's tournament.

The All-Americans were 6-foot-3 Si Green and 6-foot-7 Dick Ricketts, who combined for 56 of the Dukes' total points and grabbed 31 of their 41 rebounds. The "unselfish heroes," whose praises were being loudly sung by Coach Donald (Duke) Moore, were "little men" Mickey Winograd, Jim Fallon, and Dave Ricketts.

"Never all season long did those boys show the slightest sign of jealousy toward Ricketts and Green," said Moore proudly. "They don't care if they never get a shot—as long as the team wins."

Two-Man Show
So self-effacing were the "little men" that Green and Ricketts did all the Duquesne scoring for the first 37 1/2 minutes. But, after Dayton desperately tried a zone defense that Moore admitted Duquesne was "waiting for," it was the little men who broke the game open by scooting swiftly through the zone for short shots.

"We made the mistake by falling behind them," said Coach Tom Blackburn of Dayton. "When you let them get too far ahead of you, they go into their ball-control game and you're dead. To beat them, you have to get ahead and force them to run and press their shots."

Of little consolation to Dayton was the fine play of 7-foot Bill Uhl, who scored 25 points, and 6-foot-8 Johnny Horan, who scored 20. Green had 33, Ricketts 23.

But the "most valuable player" honor escaped Duquesne.

It went instead to Maurice (The Magnificent) Stokes of St. Francis (Pa.), which finished fourth in the tourney by losing to Cincinnati, 96-91, in overtime in the consolation game. Stokes scored 31 points in this game for a four-game total of 124 in addition to his amazing all-around brilliance on both offense and defense.

Honors on the all-tournament team, picked for the United Press by 22 writers and sportscasters who covered the event, went as follows:

First Team
Dick Ricketts, Duquesne, f
Johnny Horan, Dayton, f
Maurice Stokes, St. Francis, c
Si Green, Duquesne, g
Frank Nimmo, Cincinnati, g

Second Team
Tom Heinsohn, Holy Cross, f
Dick Bouschka, St. Louis, f
Bill Uhl, Niagara, g
Jack Sallee, Dayton, g

San Francisco Trounces La Salle In NCAA Final

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (U.P.)—Sixteen Bill Russell, who led San Francisco to the NCAA basketball championship by outplaying "Player of the Year" Tom Gola, bested Gola again today by winning the tournament's "most valuable player" trophy.

Russell outscored Gola, 23-16, as San Francisco beat defending champion La Salle rather easily, 77-63, in Saturday night's final round.

Both Russell and Gola were unanimous choices on the all-tournament team. Others named to the honor squad were Carl Cain of Iowa, K. C. Jones of San Francisco, and Jim Rangle of Colorado.

Jones actually won scoring honors in the championship game with 24 points.

Woolpert Praises Defense
Coach Phil Woolpert of the new champions had high praise for all his men, particularly Russell and Jones, and he gave special credit to the Dons' defense—the best in the nation, according to official statistics.

"Defense won it for us," said Woolpert. "That was the difference in the game. We were up against a great shooting team, but our defense and hustle beat them."

Russell had a simple explanation for the triumph, the Dons' first in a national tournament since they won the 1949 National Invitation Tournament. Russell said, "I am playing on the best team in the world and we just beat the best team we ever played."

Coach Ken Loeffler of La Salle, disappointed at his team's inability to retain the crown, called San Francisco "a great team" and Russell "a great player." He frankly admitted the Dons were "the better team," but also said he thought La Salle did not play its best game.

Colorado Wins Consolation
The title victory was San Francisco's 26th in a row and 28th in 29 games this season. The Dons' only defeat of the season came in their third game when they bowed to UCLA, 47-40.

The Dons' triumph confirmed their selection as the nation's No. 1 team at the end of the regular season by the United Press Board of Coaches.

Colorado gained third place in the tournament by winning the consolation game from Iowa in a surprise, 75-54.

TIGERS LOSE
THIRD STRAIGHT
LAKELAND, Fla. (U.P.)—The Detroit Tigers returned to their home training base today for a game with the Baltimore Orioles. The Tigers lost their third straight to the Boston Red Sox, 10-3, Sunday at Sarasota.

Limping Goose

THE STORY: A goose bank, given to Johnny Fletcher and Sam Cragg to settle an overdue bill, probably caused Sam Cragg to be kidnapped. The bank was filled with old coins and Alice Cummings, a showgirl, gave it to Johnny. Later Jess Carmichael III is found murdered in her apartment. Sam was lured away from his hotel room by kidnapers and Johnny goes first to the agency employing J. J. Kilkenny, the skip-tracer who got Johnny and Sam into the caper by trying to collect an overdue bill from them.

XVIII

The door of the outer office opened and J. J. Kilkenny came in. Johnny's back was turned to the door, however. He said to Mr. Hammer, "Kilkenny's in it up to his ears. The least you can say about him is that he's a crook." Kilkenny lunged into the room. His big hands reached out and grabbed Johnny. "What'd you call me, you little pip-squeak?" He whirled Johnny with his left hand and with the open palm of his right, rocked his head to the left, then to the right. Mr. Hammer saved him. He was half Kilkenny's size, but he was Kilkenny's boss. He said coldly, "That'll do, J. J.!" Kilkenny released Fletcher. "You lay a hand on me again," Johnny said savagely, "and I'll cut you to pieces." Kilkenny's big right hand reached automatically for Johnny, but the latter stepped back nimbly. "Here, now," Mr. Hammer said authoritatively. "Let's get this straightened out. J. J., Mr. Cragg's made some serious charges against you."

"Cragg?" exclaimed Kilkenny. "This ain't Cragg. He's Fletcher, Sam Cragg's keeper. Cragg's an ape, a muscle-bound gorilla. He can't talk unless this fellow tells him what to say."

"I'll repeat that to Sam," Johnny warned.

"Now, wait a minute, you two," interrupted Hammer. "What's this all about? You—you announced yourself as Sam Cragg."

"I never told you my name was Cragg," Johnny retorted. "In fact, I tried to tell you it wasn't."

"You gave your name to Miss Trout as Sam Cragg."

"I told her it was about the Cragg account."

"Which reminds me, that money in your hand you were going to give to me," Johnny put the money in his pocket. "At the point of a gun, I came here to find out about the goose"—indicating Kilkenny. "You came busting into my hotel room this morning with a gun—"

"Kilkenny!" cried Hammer. "Have you been carrying a gun?"

"That ain't a bunch of violets in your fist," sneered Kilkenny.

Hammer became aware that he was still holding the revolver in his hand and dropped it in the top desk drawer. "I keep that here for protection, that's all. But you know how I feel about collectors carrying firearms. You get in a jam and the police find you with a gun and—" He ran his fingers across his throat.

"His partner's Sam Cragg. We got a tab against him."

"I have Cragg's card here. He owes the money, all right."

"You're in trouble, Kilkenny," growled Johnny. "After we left the hotel this morning, you came back and tore the room apart. You stole the limping goose bank—"

"What's that?" cried Kilkenny. "The—bank's gone?"

"You took it, didn't you?"

"No!" howled Kilkenny. "But I want it . . .!"

"Why?"

"Because the dame"—Kilkenny caught himself, then finished—"because the Cummings girl was short. It's got $17 in it, money that belongs to me."

"J. J.," said Hammer, "just what are you talking about? You collected the money from Alice Cummings. Explain that."

Kilkenny tried. He swallowed hard and said, "I told you this bird's a wise guy. I ran down him and his gorilla friend over at the Forty-Fifth Street Hotel without a thin dime to their names."

Johnny took the four hundreds from his pocket, ruffled them so that J. J. Kilkenny could note their denominations. "Go ahead, big boy."

"Yes," said Mr. Hammer, "continue."

Kilkenny went on. "One word led to another and he said he could collect skips better than I could. I gave him the Cummings card and said I'd give him $10 if he could collect it."

"Ten dollars," Johnny said quietly. "I said I'd run down a girl who skipped four years ago, for a measly 10 bucks. Go ahead big boy. But make it funnier."

"Shut your trap," snarled Kilkenny. "Anyway, we made the deal and he said the doll paid him $57."

"And you didn't believe me and went back to her and found out she gave me a bank containing $17. This was after Jess Carmichael was murdered."

"I told you he's just trying to get me into trouble."

"Oh, sure," said Johnny easily. "With hundreds of dollars in my pocket, I make a deal with you to trace a woman who skipped four years ago—for a $10 skip-trace fee. And then I try to swindle you out of a piggy bank full of pennies. And—Johnny paused, then suddenly shot at Kilkenny—"just why are you so anxious to get those pennies?"

"Because I got them coming to me."

Mr. Hammer came to a sudden decision. "I think, J. J., you and me have got some talking to do." He looked at Johnny Fletcher. "I don't think we need you any more."

Rural Electric Co-Op Ass'n Blasts Hoover Commission

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Rural Electric Cooperative Assn. urged Congress today to abolish the Hoover Commission on Governmental Reorganization. It also bitterly criticized former President Herbert Hoover, who heads the commission.

The blast followed a Hoover Commission report to Congress last week which, among other things, recommended that the Rural Electrification Administration be required to raise its funds from private sources.

In a letter to the 531 members of Congress today, Clyde T. Ellis, general manager of the association, accused Mr. Hoover of "serving the vested interests against the common people."

The letter accused the 12-man commission of joining with "the power lobby" and "Wall Street bankers" in an attempt to destroy the 21-year-old government program for bringing electricity to American farms.

The association claims to speak for 3,500,000 rural power consumers.

"This report," Ellis said, "shows clearly what we have suspected from the beginning, that Mr. Hoover, repudiated by the American people in an overwhelming election defeat, has returned . . . to carry out his earlier aims of serving the vested interests against the common people."
